GAMES ARE ALL SET FOR THE OFF

THE BOROUGH Community Games - open to everyone - is a true legacy from last summer's London Games - according to council leader Liam Smith.

The two day event will provide a chance for schoolchildren, and adults of all ages, no matter their sporting achievement, to compete at Olympic standard venues.

The council was a games host borough.

Barking and Dagenham Council withdrew its support for the 2013 prestigious London Youth Games, and instead is ploughing the cash into this 'inclusive' occasion.

"The decision to withdraw from the London Youth games means we can spend money to ensure many more people in the borough get to benefit and take part in sport," Mr Smith said.

"Following the unprecedented investment in our sporting facilities over the past two years, we made a commitment to support all our young people to lead more active lives, capitalise on our sporting legacy of making our own champions and improving the fitness of everyone in the community - that is what the legacy of the Olympics is all about."

The Games will be held at Mayesbrook Athletics Arena and Sporthouse - both used as games time training venues during the Olympics.

Day one will be aimed at nine to 13-year-olds with events including athletics, cycling, basketball and wheelchair basketball.

The second day is open to anyone, young or old, including family and friends of the youngsters who competed the day before.

The council's decision not to fund a team for the London Youth games caused outrage and led to volunteers forming a steering committee, and eventually setting up a trust, to send athletes to the games, which cater for the best in various sports.

"The Community Games is not just a two day event," Mr Smith said, "it is supported by a number of local sporting clubs so anyone who has taken part can continue that enthusiasm by joining one of them."

*The Community Games run on Friday and Saturday July 5 and 6, the London Youth Games finals are on July 4, 6 and 7.

Residents help improve their local area

PLAYING TO PLAN: Young residents looked at parking problems.

Residents have raised concerns about uneven pavements, bus routes, bin location, access along pavements, dog mess, speeding, and overcoming unsafe crossings and they want more places to sit and improvements to open spaces.

The next phase is to develop the community vision for the neighbourhood with cash from the council and involving the local community.

DIY Porter's Lodge, which is made up of Becontree residents, parents, children and young people, business owners and Roding Primary school, has identified four areas which need improving: the Gale Street and Rugby Road junction, Porter's Avenue shop parade, Cannington Road and Wykeham Green.

*Members of the public are invited to Kilsby Walk next Wednesday, June 26 from 6 - 8pm, for a co-develop workshop where residents will decide where to put parking, bins, benches, trees and traffic calming measures.

Experts will be on hand to offer expertise on the best ways to solve problems such as speeding and dangerous parking as well as how urban design can help to change antisocial behaviour and bring communities together by creating places that feel better and safer to live in and move through.

There will be further workshops throughout the summer.

Competition

WIN! TICKETS TO SEE A SHOW OF YOUR CHOICE

WE have teamed up with the promoters of Thank You for the Music and the Magic of the Bee Gees show to give 10 lucky readers the chance to win a pair of tickets to the show of their choice.

Thank You for the Music, a brand-new show celebrating 40 years of ABBA hits, comes to Stratford Circus on Friday, June 28, as part of a tour of the UK's top live music venues.

Now in its fabba-ulous 20th year, Thank You for the Music has entertained the nation for even longer than Bjorn, Agnetha, Benny and Frida did during the 70s and 80s, and has been so successful it has previously outsold the likes of Status Quo, Jim Davidson and Lulu.

Thank You for the Music promises a theatrical romp through the decades, with a star-studded cast, glittering costumes and superb musicianship.

If you want to enjoy the best Jive Talkin' then head for Stratford City on Friday, October 4, to see The Magic of the Bee Gees.

The international smash-hit concert show features all of the Bee Gees' million-selling hits including Night Fever, How Deep is Your Love, Jive Talkin' and Massachusetts plus chart-toppers written by the Gibb brothers including Islands in the Stream and Chain Reaction.

The show, which is described as the UK's Most authentic Bee Gees revue, includes a touching tribute to Robin Gibb.

Martin Spooner, who plays Robin in the show, said: "Robin's distinctive vibrato vocals will be remembered forever thanks to the scores of classic songs he took to the top of the charts."

For further information about both shows and tickets call the Box office on 0844 357 2625 or visit www.stratford-circus.com or www.easytheatres.com

To win a pair of tickets to either Thank You for the Music or the Magic of Bee Gees, just answer the following question:

Q: Abba came from which Scandinavian country?

- A: Sweden
- B: Denmark
- C: Norway

To enter the competition telephone your answer - A, B or C - to 0901 307 0204 along with your name, address, telephone number, email and which show you want to see - either Abba or Bee Gees. Alternatively text YASHOWS (space) followed by A, B or C, and your name, full address, email and which show you want to see - either Abba or Bee Gees - to 63333. Calls cost 51p from a BT landline. Calls from other networks may vary and from mobiles will cost considerably more. Texts cost 50p plus your standard network rates. If you do not wish to receive details on any other products or services, please text EXIT at the end of your message. Lines close on Monday, June 24, 2013. Entries received after the closing date will not be counted but may still be charged.

Terms and Conditions

The first entries drawn after the closing date will win tickets. There is no cash alternative. Editor's decision is final.

End of factory that served 8m patients

By Pat Jones

barking@yellowad.co.uk

BATCHES of life-saving drugs have rolled off the production line for the last time at a Dagenham plant.

Sanofi has stopped production in the borough as its patents have run out.

It is the end of an era but the company hopes to leave a positive legacy behind.

It has embarked on a regeneration programme aimed at selling the 108-acre site to developers who will turn it into a park for science, business and manufacturing under the brand name Business East.

Sanofi has specialised in cancer drugs for the past 20 years, producing the world's five leading drugs at its Rainham Road South factory. Its drugs have been used by more than eight million patients all over the globe, since 1993.

"We have a lot to be proud of," a spokesman said.

The site was originally opened in 1934 by May and Baker, whose pioneering work produced M&B693, said to be responsible for saving Winston Churchill's life during the Second World War, when he was struck down by bacterial pneumonia.

The same compound saved the lives of thousands of servicemen.

The site received the Queen's Award for Industry three times for technical innovation and was awarded a Royal Warrant in 1974. Famous visitors include the Duke of Edinburgh and BBC TV's Tomorrow's World programme.

END OF AN ERA: The Sanofi plant, for years the May and Baker factory, in Dagenham is no more. Above, the Duke of Edinburgh on a visit; Right, the original production line; Below, a box of the M&B 693 drug that saved Winston Churchill's life during the war. Bottom right, the last days of the current production line.

Man charged after attack on teenager

AN UNEMPLOYED 27-year-old man has been charged with attempted murder following an attack on a 16-year-old boy.

During the alleged assault at Parsloes Park Lake, Dishad Essa Ibrahim allegedly punched the boy repeatedly before dragging him into the lake and holding his head under water.

The incident happened at around 7.50am on Friday May 31 and Ibrahim, of Romsey Road, Dagenham was charged on June 2.

Anyone who witnessed this incident but has not yet come forward should contact Det Sgt Leigh-Anne Barthram of Barking and Dagenham CID on 020 3276 1091 or call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Ford honour

FORD'S acclaimed EcoBoost engine technology has picked up a top honour at the annual Car Dealer Power awards.

The three-strong range of economical petrol power plants was voted "Manufacturer Initiative of the Year" by Car Dealer readers.

Ford's EcoBoost range includes the 1.0-litre three-cylinder unit, as well as 1.6- and 2.0-litre four-cylinder versions. I

It is the second award this month for the smallest of the trio after the 1.0-litre was singled out as "International Engine of the Year" for the second year in a row.

This year's Car Dealer Power awards were the biggest to date, with more than 2,500 entries from retailers.

MORE than 16,000 local people partied the weekend away as part of Waltham Forest's first summer Get Together at Walthamstow Big Weekender on Saturday and immersing themselves in the vibrant world of Asian culture for Sunday's Mela.

The event kicked off in fine form with top-flight pop entertainment courtesy of the specially-commissioned Soul London Orchestra, which included the legendary Marc Almond, MOBO and Brit award winner Lemar, X Factor sensation Misha B, breakthrough artist Angel, and the talented Carleen Anderson.

Those who didn't get enough on Saturday were then treated to Sunday's Mela. Hosted by DJ Nihal, Radio One, and DJ Neev from Kiss FM.

The day featured music by famous Punjabi bhangra singer Malkit Singh along with Mumzy Stranger and Shizzio. There were also dance displays from X7eaven and VP Entertainments, along with a wide array of delicious Asian foods to sample.

Chris Robbins, leader of Waltham Forest Council, said: "Our summer events are always massively popular, and no matter how many I attend I'm always pleased by the way they bring the community together."

FAMOUS: David Bailey and the plaque at his former house in Leytonstone

Plaque honour for Bailey

RENOVED photographer David Bailey has revisited the house he grew up in as a baby.

The East Ender arrived at 69 Wallwood Road, Leytonstone, on January 2, 1938, after his mother, Gladys, had given birth to him at Whips Cross Hospital.

More than 75 years on and the photographic icon returned to his roots on Wednesday after Waltham Forest Council celebrated his links with the borough by placing a plaque on David's former home.

The celebrity photographer famously photographed celebrities including Terence Stamp, The Beatles, Mick Jagger and notorious East End gangsters the Kray twins, who are buried at Chingford Mount Cemetery. David Bailey's photography helped immortalise the heady days of 60s London and preserve the capital's rich east end heritage.

The plaque unveiling followed a successful exhibition of Bailey's 'East End Faces' photography at Walthamstow's William Morris Gallery.

GROUNDED: MP Lee Scott back on terra firma with instructor Adam Hughes.

The sky's the limit for daredevil MP

ILFORD North MP Lee Scott conquered his fear of heights to join a charity skydive for a local hospice.

He joined 14 other supporters of Havering-atte-Bower's St Francis Hospice who hoped to have netted around £10,000 with their daring leap.

"I closed my eyes when I jumped from the plane – and kept them shut until I touched the ground," he said.

"I was scared but it was for such a worthy charity I was determined to do it.

"Saint Francis Hospice does such amazing work with its specialist care for local people affected by life-limiting illness when they most need it. I wanted to do my bit, too.

The intrepid party carried out a series of tandem dives in Kent, last Sunday leaping into thin air at 12,000 feet and reaching 120 mph.

There are still places available on the next hospice fund raising skydive on September 753319.

22. Anyone who wants to join in will be asked to raise £395 first which includes the cost of the jump.

St Francis hospice cares for sufferers and families in Havering, Redbridge, Barking and Dagenham and Brentwood.

To learn more about Saint Francis Hospice and ways to support the charity please visit the website www.sfh.org.uk or call 01708

Protesters take fire cuts fight to City Hall

LONDON Assembly member for City and East John Biggs joined protesters against proposed cuts to London's fire service on a march from Whitechapel fire station to City Hall.

Last Friday's demonstration came as consultation on the plans was due to end on Monday.

Mayor Boris Johnson, who aims to cut £45million from the brigade's budget over two years, plans to close 12 fire stations, remove 18 fire engines and axe 520 fire fighters across the capital.

Mr Biggs said: "These cuts are totally unnecessary and will leave residents in our area with much reduced fire cover."

In Bow attendance times will rise by more than three minutes, this might not sound a lot but a fire can quadruple in intensity in just two minutes, every second counts. Fire deaths are down in London, but this is down to the hard work and professionalism of our brave firefighters. On top of putting out fires they do a huge amount of community fire safety work. If they are cut back how will this work carry on?

"The mayor's consultation closes on Monday, residents across London have told Boris with one voice that they do not accept his fire cuts. Let's hope he listens, we'll keep making a noise until he does."

PROTEST: Assembly members John Biggs and Val Shawcross join demonstrators against fire service cuts.

"Earlier this year we presented Boris with a fully costed plan to keep all of these fire stations open and fire engines on the road. This is one cut that the Mayor doesn't have to make and is totally unnecessary. It's time for him to listen to Londoners and drop these reckless plans."

disease, meningitis and cot death.

Council cabinet member for health Maureen Worby, said: "Because people can't see the danger, they don't think there is any."

"I urge everyone who smokes to take a look at this campaign and think about how their actions are affecting their children."

■ Contact your GP or local pharmacist for help to stop smoking or call Barking and Dagenham Stop Smoking Service on 020 8532 6284.

They offer free help and advice to all smokers living and working in Barking and Dagenham who want to give up. Visit www.nhs.uk/smokefree and order a free Smoke Free Kit.

The facts...

- More than 80% of second-hand smoke is invisible and odourless so no matter how careful you are children still breathe it in.

- Children of smokers are 90% more likely to become smokers themselves.

- Up to 5 million children in the UK are regularly exposed to second-hand smoke in the home, resulting in more than 300,000 GP visits and 9,500 hospital admissions for children each year.

- The cost to this NHS treatment is around £26 million per annum.

£10,000 spent on flowers

BARKING and Dagenham Council has been laying with flowers to the tune of £10,000 over the past five years, a Channel 4 TV programme has revealed.

A council spokesman said: "This is historic expenditure on hospitality, authorised by officers who left the council quite some time ago – in some cases going back four or five years. It is not possible to identify precisely what it relates to, but we can say such expenditure would not be repeated today."

"We now share a chief executive with Thurrock Council which has brought about significant savings to both authorities."

The Dispatches programme looked at town hall luxuries.

It's fun to keep fit at the YMCA

STAFF in Forest YMCA's leisure and fitness team have huge smiles on their faces.

They have just been rated second in a national customer service league.

Customer service league tables are produced annually by Pro Leisure a national research organisation, which are based on mystery shopper findings.

The firm also produces monthly reports which help Forest ensure its service is always tops.

Timothy Pain, chief executive of the Waltham Forest YMCA, said: "The information we get from Pro

Leisure is vital in helping us to make any changes to our services needed to improve customer care.

"We have been striving to ensure customer care is the best it can be in all our departments."

Forest provides a range of services to the local community including affordable gym membership.

Forest also provides support and accommodation to young vulnerable homeless people between 16 and 30 across the borough.

Last year FYMCA gave 550 young people a safe place to live, helped 468 into education and training and 109 to achieve independent living.

Watch out, bad parkers!

ACTION is being taken against poor parking with extra portable CCTV cameras and a car to monitor bad driving and parking near schools.

A CCTV car is already on the road in Redbridge keeping a watchful eye on cars at school peak times in response to increased complaints about irresponsible parking.

When it is not on school patrol it will help keep the borough's roads safe and moving freely.

The four movable cameras will target accident blackspots, watching out for dodgy drivers entering banned turns and entering yellow box junctions.

Shoaib Patel, council cabinet member for environment, transportation and crime, said: "This vehicle will help our officers cover a wider area with increased enforcement monitoring. We are also aware of safety issues where motorists ignore the road traffic restrictions in place and place other road users and pedestrians at risk".

As the council is working with existing service providers the CCTV cameras are part of a pilot agreement which will initially be of no cost. The system goes live before the end of the month.

GREAT VIEW: Friends of Wanstead Parklands show a group around.

A friendly way to see park

FRIENDS of Wanstead Parklands took a group of local history and nature lovers on a walk last Sunday. It is the third in a series of five to visit the Ornamental Water and the River Roding. 'Friend' Richard Arnopp, who led the group, pointed out magnificent vistas toward the Grotto and the site of Wanstead House.

Some of the group went on to the Temple, which now houses a visitor centre and gift shop and is open every weekend.

It was originally built around 1760 by John, 2nd Earl Tylney of Castlemaine.

The remaining two more walks in the series will take place on August 18 and October 20.

WHEELING IT OUT: Ford's new BlueService is a £7.5million improvement to aftersales

Ford's blue-sky thinking

FORD is pumping £7.5 million into an initiative to transform its aftersales experience for retail customers with BlueService.

It comes with the arrival of a range of new services launched under the Ford BlueService banner and rolled out across the brand's 650-strong service network, which is the largest in the UK.

BlueService, which is actually a joint investment between Ford and its dealers, includes a free electronic vehicle health check, online service booking, assistance, accident management and a Ford One Call helpline. Customers will also boost their Nectar point balance with servicing offers rewarding two points for every £1 spent.

Ford says that over the next few months

By Mike Torpey

the scheme will add new benefits covering fixed pricing for parts, jobs and servicing, security and operating system upgrades and online innovations.

BlueService joins the latest aftersales services announced for commercial vehicle customers under the Transit24 name.

Ford customer service division chief Jon Wellsman said: "This new package combining servicing, roadside assistance and an annual inspection will benefit customers driving Fords of any age or mileage.

Mr Wellsman added: "The Ford UK dealer network accommodates over one million customer visits a year."

DAGGERS MD AN MBE IN HONOURS

Hockey

Forest teams through to Palace finals

OVER the weekend, the qualifiers for this year's London Youth Games took place across a wide range of sports at Redbridge Sports Centre.

Waltham Forest girls hockey team was trying to better last year and qualify for the finals for the first time since 2007.

The girls were up first on Saturday and had an unenviable group including last year's semi-finalists Southwark and the ever-strong Havering. Their first match was against Camden and a slow start put them 2-0 behind by half time. While they improved in the second half, a further goal for Camden saw them lose 3-0.

With one of the teams in their group having dropped out before the event started and some tough opposition to come, the girls had to focus on trying to get points from their four remaining games.

They stated well taking a two goal lead into half time in the next game against Tower Hamlets with goals for Crystal Shelley and Lydia Hale before sealing the win 4-0. Katherine Klat and Shelley both scored and took this form into the next game against Islington racing into a 3-0 lead at half time thanks to goals from Isabelle Scerri and two more from Crystal Shelley.

That left them in third place with two games to play facing the unbeaten Havering and Southwark teams.

The Southwark game was edgy in the opening period until Katherine Klat stole a breakaway goal. Both teams had chances in the second period but Forest held on for the victory.

Havering and Camden were both still ahead in the standings and that draw would be needed in the final game to ensure they made it to the finals.

Forest went on the attack from the off and some great pressure from Lydia Hale and Alexis Shore saw them dominate possession with Alexis Shore breaking clear to fire them ahead.

Keen to preserve their lead, Forest re-shaped to play a more defensive game with three at the back and pushed through for victory.

That saw them jump into first place in their league and guarantee their place at Crystal Palace for the first time in six years.

The boys team also qualified as best runners up in their group.

Football

DAGGERS managing director Steve Thompson was 'overwhelmed' when he learned he had been made an MBE.

"I was amazed. Things like that don't normally happen to people with ordinary background like me," he said.

Steve was honoured for his services to football and to young people of Barking and Dagenham in the Queen's Birthday Honours List, and will go to Buckingham Palace to be invested, later in the year.

He joined the management board of former Dagenham FC in 1981 and became MD when the club merged with Redbridge, to become the Daggers in 2007.

Steve, 53, has used his connection with football – he loves the game but was never much of a player – to help young people develop and keep out of trouble.

"I have always been mindful that the area is a poor one and needs support," he said, "Football is a great way to engage youngsters and give them something positive to hang on to."

He is involved with Kicks, a scheme which encourages 16 and 17-year-olds to take a BTEC in sports science at Barking and Dagenham College.

"This way football brings them in, and then they end up learning very much more, learn more."

He is also involved with Living A Dream Trust, which provides equipment for disabled sports men and women.

Steve was a governor at Barking and Dagenham College for 12 years

HONOURED: Steve Thompson MD at Daggers FC

Picture by Mark Cleveland

and is now on the governing board at All saints RC primary School in Dagenham.

He is also a member of the local community safety partnership.

"I am very keen to help youngsters stay out of trouble," he added.

The MBE is not the first time Steve's work with young people had been recognised. He was made a Freeman of the Borough in 2008 for his efforts then.

Steve has plenty to occupy him as he waits for his important date with the Queen - the new season starts on August 3.

Before that there is a friendly fix-ture against Crystal Palace which has just been promoted to the Premiership.

The team only just managed to hold onto its place in League Two last season.

"We hope to do better this coming year," he said, "We start with new manager Wayne Burnett so we have high hopes."

He is looking forward playing Portsmouth – the FA Cup winners, who were relegated to League Two last season."

Topping the league this season would just go nicely with Steve's MBE.

Woodford in the medals

Athletics

WOODFORD athletes were in action at Bedford over the weekend at the England U/20 and U/23 Championships, which incorporated the trials for the European Championships for those age groups.

Four medals were won by Woodford athletes and a further two by HCA members. Youcef Zataf collected two and there were also medals for Alex Cornwell and Matt McLaughlin.

Zataf's first medal came in the U/20 shot where he finished a close second with a personal best of 17.34m. He also picked up third place in the discus with 50.06m.

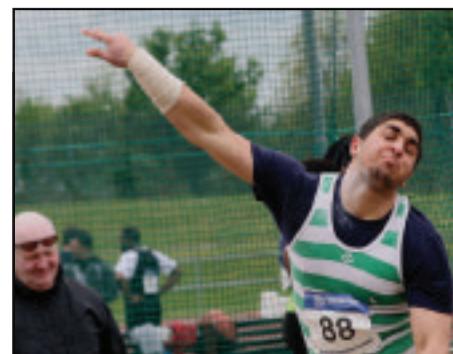

Omololu Abiudun also made the semi where he finished sixth with 21.91 secs having run 21.78 secs in his heat.

slowed, Alex made a strong effort from 450m out, but was caught in the home straight, but held on well for second in 3m46.32 secs.

The other medal fell to Matt McLaughlin, also over 1500m but in the U/20 event, where in a tactical race a strong finish saw him move through to finish third with 3m55.22 secs. Missing out on a medal, in the U/23 200m, Jordan Kirby-Polidore placed fourth with 21.10 secs. In the heats, Sam Watts qualified for the semi-finals with 21.44 secs, but after feeling a niggle did not start the semi.

Omololu Abiudun also made the semi where he finished sixth with 21.91 secs having run 21.78 secs in his heat.

Another to just miss out was Kitty Eleyae, fourth in the U/23 long jump with 5.90m.

The Clarke brothers, Peter and Harry each made hammer finals. Peter placed eighth in the U/23 event with 53.32m, and in the U/20 event Harry placed fifth with 60.05m. In the U/23 Long Jump, Omololu Abiudun was David Crisp placed tenth with 6.69m.

Three Woodford HCA members were also in action. In the U/20 pole vault, Dan Gardener placed second with 4.70m; in the U/23 shot, Scott Lincoln was also second with 16.46m, and in the U/23 javelin Paul Allsop was fourth with 64.11m.

Football

Refs can get promoted too

Essex has two brand new names on the Football League match officials list after Chelmsford's Michael Bull and Michael Smith from Basildon were rewarded for their high levels of performance by achieving promotion as a referee and an assistant referee respectively for the 2013/14 campaign.

It's been another excellent season for refereeing in the county as five more candidates were promoted from Level 4 to 3 and three others from Level 5 to 4. When the lists were confirmed, Bull was ecstatic a mere 21 years since first 'officially' picking-up the whistle in November 1992 to provide his youth side with a recognised referee.

Mike has since reached the elite group of National List referees and he'll start afresh in August at the level so many aspire to reach. "When I passed it was because I was running a youth side at the time and we didn't have a referee most weeks," he reflected.

It may not have been planned when first turning out in front of parents on a Sunday morning, and Mike's route hasn't been without its twists and turns.

"You need to be prepared to take a few knocks as well as praise," he said. "I had an interview to get on the Football League before and missed out, as well as losing my status as an assistant on the Premier League. You have to roll with the punches and have faith in your own ability. I feel I'm better for it."

For any officials with the desire to follow in his footsteps, Mike is certain of what is required: "Take advice when you can, and not just the good bits. I've had huge influences in my career and they've been important in getting this far. In the early days there was John Hayto and Paul Clark and, more recently, my coach Paul Taylor who has been amazing. He has defined how I referee."

Mike's latest promotion came on the back of a successful trial period, and a debut he will never forget.

"My very first Football League game was between Wycombe Wanderers and York City in February. I gave a penalty after just 82 seconds! It was my very first decision - a correct one I might add - and I also gave a second one before half time. But I think giving such a big call so early on really helped me settle into the game," he said.

"It's been the perfect season. I refereed an FA Vase Semi-Final and, on top of that, the Conference Play-Off final at Wembley. That was a wonderful experience. It's every official's dream to referee at Wembley and now I've done that nobody can take it away from me. It's something I'll always cherish."

James Lisher, Essex County FA Referee Development Officer, is proud of the achievements of all the officials who continue to show the talent and desire to progress their game. He said: "To have a referee reach the National List is brilliant and we really wish Mike all the very best. But it's also something for other officials to aspire to."

If you'd like to become a referee, call James on (01245) 393097 or e-mail james.lisher@essexfa.com. Further information on refereeing can also be found on www.essexfa.com.

Level 1 (National List): Michael Bull (Football League Referee) (Chelmsford).

Level 3 (National List): Michael Smith (Football League Assistant Referee) (Basildon).

Level 4 to Level 3: Rick Bloy (Basildon); Stuart Cheek (Ilford); Daniel Cook (Braintree); Simon Essex (Colchester); James Whittaker Jnr (Harlow).

Level 5 to Level 4: Jamie Pope (Hockley); Paul Waller (Wickford); Ray Wells (Leyton).
